

Certificate IV in Ageing Support

Health Workforce
Queensland

Health Workforce Queensland and Northern Queensland Primary Health Network are partnering to provide opportunities for primary care services to upskill employees through completion of a Certificate IV in Ageing Support.

This course provides participants with the necessary knowledge, skills, and practical experience to work within a residential aged care facility or home and community care. More information about the course including time commitment, delivery method, placement requirements, and units of study are available at www.healthindustrytraining.org/courses/certificate-iv-ageing-support/

A limited number of opportunities are currently available to cover the enrolment fees of key staff who would benefit from completing this Certificate course. Potential candidates will need to address the eligibility criteria via the Expression of Interest link.
