

NQPHN Allied Health and Pharmacy Professional Network

For allied health professionals and pharmacists

Northern Queensland Primary Health Network (NQPHN) invites all allied health professionals and pharmacists working in the North Queensland region to join us for the first professional network group meeting.

The aim of this virtual event is to establish the purpose and outcomes of the network group and identify how NQPHN can facilitate ongoing face-to-face or virtual professional network meetings for professionals across the NQPHN region.

This event will allow professionals to engage with their colleagues, share ideas, and offer feedback to NQPHN on professional challenges and what we can do to support your practice better.

This meeting will be recorded.
