

eConsultant and Virtual Integrated Practice (VIP) information sessions

For GPs and general practice staff

Northern Queensland Primary Health Network (NQPHN), together with the Mater Research team invite general practitioners (GPs) and their practice teams to attend online information sessions on eConsultant and the Virtual Integrated Practice (VIP) Program.

eConsultant

The Mater Hospital's eConsultant program provides GPs with access to specialist advice for adult patients (>16 years). The request for advice is sent from your practice software, with a response from an experienced specialist expected within three business days via secure messaging. Learn more.

Virtual Integrated Practice (VIP) Program

The VIP Program is a pilot study run to support the rural GP workforce and build practice sustainability. It involves an urban/regional GP joining a rural MMM4-7 general practice remotely over secure telehealth to provide ongoing care to the practice's patients one or two days per week. Learn more.

These information sessions will provide GPs and practice teams working in the northern Queensland region with in-depth information about current workforce programs, supports, and services, with the opportunity to have your questions answered.

Both webinars will be recorded and made available to participants after the event.
