Digital Health Initiatives in RACHs

For general practitioners, practice managers, clinical staff, and primary care providers working in residential aged care

Are you passionate about enhancing the quality of life for residents in aged care homes? Are you interested in taking advantage of the recently introduced general practice aged care incentives?

Join Northern Queensland Primary Health Network (NQPHN) to discover how cutting-edge digital health tools can be used to transform care delivery, streamline processes, and improve patient outcomes in residential aged care homes (RACHs) across northern Queensland.

Topics

- New General Practice Aged Care Incentives (GPACIs) and funding.
- Spotlight on NQPHN's Telehealth in RACHs project.
- My Health Record - new and upcoming aged care features.
- Electronic prescribing and medicine charting.

Don't miss the opportunity to keep pace with the evolving landscape of digital health, and its impacts on aged care.
