

For general practice and pharmacy staff

Cold chain management update

Northern Queensland Primary Health Network, together with Townsville Public Health Unit invites general practice and pharmacy staff to a free education session to upskill your knowledge on cold chain management.

Join us for an update on cold chain management requirements, maintaining cold chain, and immunisation schedule changes.

This update will be presented by Townsville Public Health Unit nurses.

Participants are welcome to join us prior to the update for nibbles and networking, starting at 5pm.
