

With healthy ears, kids can learn,
talk, read and listen.

If you're worried about your child's ear and hearing health, call Hearing Australia today to speak with an audiologist for information and support.

Call 134 432 and select option 4.

First Nations Services

Support Line

*Hearing Australia's First Nations Support Line is a free service for all people who identify as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander background. The Support Line is also for health and education providers that work with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

The Support Line offers free support on general ear and hearing health and information on hearing services available from Hearing Australia.