

Rural Practice Essentials

For rural and remote allied health clinicians and practice owners

Expressions of interest invited!

Rural Practice Essentials (RPE) is a practical, policy-informed professional development program designed to support rural and remote allied health clinicians and practice owners to understand the factors that shape health service delivery and to apply evidence-based strategies to build sustainable services.

Delivered in partnership with Services for Australian Rural and Remote Allied Health \(SARRAH\), this webinar series combines system insights, business fundamentals, workforce planning, and lived experience from rural practice owners to equip participants with the knowledge and confidence to navigate today's complex operating environment.

RPE is designed for:

- rural and remote allied health practice owners
- clinicians considering private practice or service expansion
- allied health managers and team leaders
- early-career clinicians seeking system and business literacy
- workforce, service planning, and commissioning professionals.

This expressions of interest is designed to support the planning of this education program, ensuring the content and topics align with the needs of local allied health professionals and maximise opportunities for those seeking professional support for their practice.

Expressions of interest close 4pm, Monday 19 October 2026.

Services for Australian
Rural and Remote Allied Health

Commencing

October 2026

Format

Six-part live online webinar series

More information

nqphn.com.au/ruralpracticeessentials

Online EOI registration

www.surveymonkey.com/r/JVF8XBS

For more information, contact:

Catherine Maloney
Services for Australian Rural and Remote Allied Health
e: catherine@sarrah.org.au